TheNegotiator
Awards 2025

A unique sponsorship opportunity

Established in 2008, The Negotiator Awards has become the most prestigious awards ceremony for the UK residential estate and letting agency industry.

The event is growing in popularity every year, with up to 1000 guests attending the awards ceremony, the majority of them directors and business owners.

As befits such a high profile event, the The Negotiator Awards 2025 will be held at a leading 5-star venue in London. The Negotiator Awards is viewed as the highlight of the residential property industry year, featuring coveted awards, presented at a glamorous black-tie gala dinner, with celebrity entertainment. It is a stylish, fast-paced and exciting event. WATCH THE VIDEO: CLICK HERE.

The Negotiator Awards is organised by Propertydrum Ltd, publisher of TheNegotiator, the leading media brand for the residential estate and letting agency industry with the biggest online audience in the sector with over 2.6m total users*, with over 8.8m page views* (*verified by Google Analytics, April 24 – March 25).

Sponsorship of the event brings with it powerful exposure to this audience, with each sponsorship package including a range of advertising benefits, making your marketing spend really work.

No other awards—or event—in this market has such targeted media strength behind it. The event also has its own dedicated website: www.thenegotiator.co.uk/awards and the awards programme is promoted on social media throughout the year.

Associate your brand with a celebration of excellence

The Negotiator Awards celebrates excellence in residential agency. The event is staged in the five-star luxury of the Grosvenor House Great Room. It is hosted by a leading celebrity – the brilliant Ellie Taylor presented the 2024 event; previous presenters have been Tom Allen, Jimmy Carr, Julian Clary, Ed Byrne, Alistair McGowan, Alexander Armstrong and Hugh Dennis, entertaining and celebrating with the audience.

Sponsors enjoy exposure to the audience throughout the evening – branding and advertising in the Awards programme, bannering around the event and on the giant screens. Award categories are presented by representatives of the sponsoring company, with exclusive on-screen branding and name-checks and sponsor thanks as part of the presentation. But the evening itself is the culmination of a continuous campaign of promotion of sponsor branding, with year-round marketing of the event to the agent audience, through the various media channels of The Negotiator.

Be seen to support UK agency – and network with its leaders

The evening is considered the 'Property Party of the Year' for UK residential agency – there is cabaret entertainment throughout and after-dinner dancing and a charity casino – but it is also an important networking event for what is by definition, the cream of the industry. Sponsors mix with this select audience in a stylish, exciting and congenial setting, creating brand association with success, achievement and five-star quality.

Suppliers to the industry can network with agent clients and potential clients to make connections and build relationships, opening doors and creating opportunities for the coming new year.

Sponsors can entertain their own clients and staff at the event, extending their hospitality to this premium quality evening.
